ARCANUM CLUB TRIO

LEAD IN BOWLING Won Four Out of Five at New London-Tilly's Fine 974 Total.

In a bowling tourney which has been In a bowling tourney which has been started between three men teams from the Arcanum club of this city, the ED's and Odd Fellows of New London, the Arcanum club trio has a lead which they increased on Thursday night at New London by taking four out of five games from the New London Odd Fellows. The Arcanum trio sailed along at a winning gait all the way, but in the last game Hokanson of the Odd Fellows rolled the fancy string of 347 which placed his team ahead for this one game.

WAIVED ON GREEN BY MISTAKE, Connie Mack Got Mixed Up With Paddy Right Name.

They rarely put anything across on Commis Mark, but Frank Chance slip-ped one over on the Athletics' asiate manager the other day. The aninority manager the other day. The authority for this assertion is none other than black himself, who told how be had accidentally but none the less effectively waived upon Paddy Green of the Highlanders pitching staff. Mack, it appears, has had his eye upon Green for some time, wanting him long before the New York Americans paid $1,009 for the Humington woodenopper last summer. And Mack has frequently asserted that he would never permit Green to get out of the American league. Nevertheless the Athletics manager did waive upon him discovering what he had done only when too late, with Green on his way out of the American league and to the Pittaburg cinb of the National.

Here's the way it happened: Green's real name isn't Green at all; that is real name isn't Green at all; that is only his nom de baseball. Rather it's Grinier, and that was the name under which he signed a New York contract. When Chance asked for waivers upon the individual they were under the name of Grinier, not Green. The Paddy Green part of it wasn't even in parenthesis. Mack, not knowing Grinier was Green, was pleased to a grinier was Green, was pleased to a grinier was Green, was pleased to a grinier was Green. Grinler was Green, was pleased to ac-

Grinler was Green, was pleased to accommodate and promptly waived.

Chance was himself surprised, as he had imagined Mack would block the deal. But having Mack's consent. Chance couldn't hustle Green out of the league quick enough, and Green was at once sent to Pittsburg, Dreytuss having been wise to the Grinler-Green business. Chance, while he couldn't carry Green himself, wasn't anxious to have a young man on a anxious to have a young man on a team that the Highlanders were likely to oppose during the season. In fact, the move was made so quickly that no agreement has yet been reached as to what the Pittsburg club must give for him. But then, Chance and Clarke him, But then, Chance and Clarke have trailed along together in the Na-tional league for years, knowing each other well, and Chance was perfectly willing to talk terms later, Harry Whitney and the other candldates for the American team are play-ing fast polo every day at the polo field on George Gould's Georgian court field on George Gould's Georgian court at Lakewood, N. J., in preparation for the international match in June. Three teams are at work, including the two Waterburys, Harry Payne Whitney, H. C. Phipps, Devereaux Milburn, J. h. Phipps, H. H. Harrison, R. L. Agassiz, Rene LaMontagne and L. E. Stoddard. From these will be picked the members of the American team which will defend the cup. In the last contest Whitney, Milburn and the two Water-Lurys composed the American team, and unless one of these meets with an accident it is thought they will compose the team this year.

Andy Lawrence of Holyoke will probably get back into the game this season. He has been practicing regularly and has been showing some of his old time form. It is said that Lawrence will play with Holyoke if he plays at all, as he has business interests in the Paper ("Its"). ests in the Paper City.

The injury to Vic Saier, who wrenched his ankie recently, will no doubt prevent the Cubs from making a quick getaway in the National league pennant chase. Rabbit Maranville and Hap Myers

The chances are that George Burns will land a regular berth in the outled of the Giants. George has been showing Manager McGraw the real article this spring.

Jennings, Marquard and a number of other ball players who appeared in vaudeville during the winter announce that they are through with the stage. This will give the actors a chance.

Rabbit Maranville and Hap Myers of the Boston Nationals would make a swell vaudeville aream in a knockabout act. The Rabbit is built so close to the ground that he tears the seat of his trousers on the charp grass blades when he walks across the field, while Hap could eat his lunch on a second-story window ledge without stretching his neck.

This will give the actors a chance.

Bill Sweeney was the first player of the season to be exiled for three days, but Larry Doyle became a point winner for McGraw university by running second. He simost fade a dead heat of it, too.

The attempt of Connie Mack to relegate Ben Egan, the former Utica backstop, to the minors will not go through just yet. When Mack asked through second.
